

Promotion and New Location for Central Turf & Irrigation Supply

Source: www.TurfMagazine.com

Elmsford, NY – Central Turf & Irrigation Supply, Inc., a leading North American wholesale distributor of irrigation, landscape, lighting and equipment supplies, has opened a new store on Long Island in Copiague, New York. The new location will serve professional landscape, lawn care and irrigation contractors with Sean McQuillen as the store manager.

Central Turf & Irrigation Supply, Inc. has appointed Shane Wiman as Green Products Manager. Wiman previously worked as an Account Manager in the turf division. Wiman will guide all turf sales efforts and will train Central's local representatives on the latest products and technologies.

"Shane understands the needs of the landscape professional, both in the field and in their business operations," said Anthony Luciano, Director of Sales and Marketing at Central Turf & Irrigation Supply, Inc. "He knows that professional contractors build their reputations by choosing the right products to create the right results. He is very serious about guiding our customers to the right choices in our wide range of product solutions."