Wright Mfg. has named EDM Distributors the company's 2011 Distributor of the Year. This is the second year in a row that Wright has honored the Suffield, Conn., firm with this award.

EDM distributes Wright commercial lawnmowers, as well as its line of Velke sulkies and Grass Gobbler heavy-duty grass catchers, in New England.

EDM was selected for this honor because the firm led the country in percentage of increased sales, new dealer development and overall parts and service satisfaction rating.

EDM began distributing Wright Velke sulkies and Grass Gobbler grass catchers in the fall of 1992, and is one of the largest distributors of Wright's accessory line today. The company took on the lawnmower line in the fall of 1999.
